CONCERNING EMPLOYMENT

There is a tightening of the laws in many states regarding the employment of married women. This is especially true in the field in State and local governments. Where they formerly raised objections if the husband was employed by the state, it is now whether the husband is employed at all. This problem has rapidly spread into education and there are many schools who do not employ married women under any circumstances. There are two sides to the question and we are not taking sides. For everyone knows the various instances where each has a strong case. But we do see the passing of many bills in the land limiting the employment of married women. The national employment situation being what it is, the fact that there are still women who work after marriage when they have a husband able to support them, is an angle that must be considered.

COUNTRY DOCTOR

It pleases us that there is more recognition given yearly to our country doctors. They have been the material for a revival of interest in movies, fiction and on the radio. There are those who believe that the training and equipment of the country doctor is not up to modern standards, but that is not as true today as in past years. We must remember that the country doctor made up for a technical knowledge with a personal knowledge of the patient and his family for many generations back, and this is an important item in present day medicine. They call it case history. The country doctor was a pioneer in this field. He battled against fear and superstition and ignorance. He was helped by post roads and unsanitary conditions. He dealt with all civilization and made the way easier for the modern physician. The country has been given a back seat as eyes turn to large hospitals and expensive laboratories, equipment and training. The time is indeed ripe to speak of the nation's debt and obligation of science, to these our country doctors.

A FASHION NOTE

Leave it to the French to give us a stylish note, even in gas masks! The contour of a mask may be business-like and unattractive but the French are making cloth covers to carry their masks to harmonize with the garments of the women. The cases vary for each outfit and no doubt very fanciful in design, as we may French creations. The seriousness of gas-masks is rather offset by making their necessity into an occasion for technique in costuming. A serious angle of war broken up with notes of fuss and feathers, fashions and fancy.

The P.T.A., with funds collected by county and student activity funds, spent $131 for new books this past year. The same Library committee was reappointed to serve this year. Principal J. R. Cox reported that there is approximately a 27 per cent increase in enrollment in the Junior High. The total number being 27 pupils. Enrollment in the Elementary grades is slightly less than last year. He also reported 25 members, boys and girls, serving on the school's Safety Patrol. The bazaar for attendance was won by the Eighth and Ninth grade room with E. C. Brewton, teacher.

Following the business session, Trustee O. B. McClure spoke on the progress the school had made in the country. He stated that while not seeking reelection, he will continue to be interested in and assist in every way possible

And there's no reason to let poor lighting wreck your eyes and wrack your nerves — for electricity is cheaper than ever — "big enough" bulbs in scientific better-light lamps cost only a few pennies a night.
